

TESTIMONIALS

"Working with Reinhabit may be one of the easiest ways to build a garden that will feed and support itself as well as build living nutrient dense soil for the future. The process is simple to understand and the assistance from a trained gardener is unique in the world of landscape and gardening. I recommend Reinhabit to everyone who wants access to a simple sustainable system to grow healthful food and a healthier ecosystem."

- Emma R.

"I love partnering with Reinhabit! They are quick to respond to questions and requests. The gardener I worked with was amazing! She not only worked her magic to make my garden beautiful and full of life, but also took the time to educate me on regenerative practices so I can continue to improve my soil and biodiversity."

- Lisa E.

WHAT MAKES US different

WE LET NATURE WORK FOR US

We garden in a way that allows natural processes to generate abundance by cycling carbon and keeping systems in balance.

If you're looking for a low-cost, low-maintenance garden, adapted to the Front Range climate, that produces benefits for wildlife, soil, AND your carbon footprint—we're an ideal choice!

YEAR ROUND

We teach you how to steward your land in every season. Check out our Four Seasons Gardening workshops for more information!

EDUCATION & DIY

We encourage and educate our clients so they can eventually do the work on their own! This is important to our mission of spreading these practices for community resilience.
